IN PROGRAM—Lokalia Montgomery, well-known for her beautiful chanting, will participate in the program of Ancient Hawaiian Chants and Dances to be given at 8 p.m. Thursday in the central court at the Honolulu Academy of Arts. There is no charge.

Academy Will Give Program

The program to be presented at the Honolulu Academy of Arts at 8 o'clock this evening—Ancient Hawaiian Chants and Dances—is one which no one interested in old Island culture should miss. It is open to the public without charge and is recommended to newcomers and tourists visiting here, since it gives a colorful picture of one phase of Island life prior to the coming of western civilization.

The group of people presenting program include Iolani Luahine, well-known dancer; Kawena Pukui, narrator; Malia Kau, chanter; Lokalia Montgomery, drummer and chanter; Malulani Kahea, chanter and performer on the nose flute; and Makalei Montgomery, who will also play the nose flute and blow the conch shell.

Among the old dances will be those of the gourd, pebble, treadle board, stick, chest slapping, image and drum hulas.
